To whom it may concern:

TomTom have been a customer of ARC Services (UK) Ltd for over eight years and in this time they have serviced both our corporate HQ and our field environment.

We have always found ARC's service to be of the highest calibre and have found their staff to be courteous, experienced, knowledgeable, helpful and extremely customer focused from their engineers right through to their senior management team.

They have assisted us in many mission critical projects and have always delivered way above our expectations and so we still continue to use their expertise to this day.

I would not hesitate to recommend them to any company actively seeking a service delivery organisation that is flexible in its approach, has the ability to tailor their solutions and are never afraid to go the extra mile in order to delight their customers!

Yours Faithfully,

Tonia Moore
